Our program for Tuesday, 9 May 2023:
Vice Admiral Charles W. Martoglio, USN (Ret.)
will present, "America and the World to 2030:
Competition, Confrontation, or Conflict."

Please plan to join us from 11:15 AM to 1:00 PM at the Oceanview on Naval Base Point Loma (NBPL) for this in-person luncheon / forum.

Vice Admiral (VADM) Martoglio is an advisor to a wide variety of activities including academic, healthcare, and civic organizations. His focus is on national security, international relations, and strategic leadership.

VADM Martoglio spent about half of his forty-year military career in the US Navy at sea in cruisers, destroyers, and aircraft carriers. While at sea, he commanded an Aegis destroyer, a destroyer squadron, and the RONALD REAGAN Aircraft Carrier Strike Group.

VADM Martoglio spent the other half of his career developing strategy and leading military operations, initially for the US Navy then for all US military forces. With five tours of duty in Washington, he has also served in senior positions in Asia and Europe. A recognized expert in strategic planning, he continues to be an active contributor to our nation's security - advising and speaking on issues impacting America, especially those involving Russia and China. Additionally, he teaches grand strategy and defense policy at UC San Diego's School of Global Policy and Strategy.

VADM Martoglio is a 1978 graduate of the US Naval Academy and he holds a master's degree, with highest distinction, in National Security and Strategic Studies from the US Naval War College.

VADM Martoglio is married to the former Darlene Levandosky of Cleveland, Ohio, a multi-award-winning commercial banker. They are active in the San Diego community and live in Coronado, California.

12 May 2023 is Military Spouse Appreciation Day

This annual event occurs each May on the Friday before Mother's Day and was first recognized by President Ronald Reagan in 1984. He detailed in this proclamation the sacrifices military spouses make for their families, communities and country.

"In many instances, they subordinated their personal and professional aspirations to the greater benefit of the service family. Responding to the call of duty, they frequently endured long periods of separation or left familiar surroundings and friends to re-establish their homes in distant places. And there they became American ambassadors abroad."

"As volunteers, military spouses have provided exemplary service and leadership in educational, community, recreational, religious, social and cultural endeavors. And as parents and homemakers, they preserve the cornerstone of our Nation's strength – the American family."

1907 submarine Simon Lake XV (aka Lake & Defender) found in Long Island Sound

The 92 foot long, 200 ton submarine Simon Lake XV was built in 1907 by Newport News Shipbuilding for inventor Simon Lake to compete with Electric Boat's Octopus (SS-9) for a U.S. Navy construction contract. Octopus won in nearly every judged category and went on to be the lead boat for the Navy's C-Class submarines.

Rebuilt for underwater mine sweeping, salvage and rescue operations and renamed Defender, Lake's submarine was equipped with wheels to move along the ocean floor and a hatch that enabled divers to exit and enter the vessel underwater (imagine that!!)

Lake's submarine failed to find a buyer and eventually was scuttled in Long Island Sound in 1946 by the Army Corps of Engineers. In April 2023, a team of divers lead by Richard Simon identified a previously known ship wreck site in Long Island Sound as the long lost Simon Lake submarine Defender.

Submarine Defender as rebuilt with sharply raked bow, and her topsides changed, ready for launch at Lake's Bridgeport base. Above her twin propellers is the shutter of a stern torpedo tube. Lake's characteristic pair of amidships planes have been folded up (they are forward and abaft the big conning tower). Source: NAVSOURCE, circa 1907
